What information will this give my doctor? This test is designed to look at the structures and organs in the abdomen to determine any abnormalities. Examples: gallstones, gall sludge, cysts, or masses.

What do I need to know before I get there? The day of the test, you need to have nothing to eat or drink 6-8 hours prior to your appointment time. If medication is needed prior to appointment time, take with a glass of WATER only.

How long will it take? Once you are registered in the Radiology Department, you will be made comfortable in our waiting area and a technologist will be with you shortly. Once you are in the exam room, depending on which abdominal test has been ordered, the exam will take 5-15 minutes.

After the exam is complete, our imaging will be read by a Radiologist and the results will be given to your doctor within 1 or 2 days.
