

Let's Get Cooking!

Meet us at the Kehrs Mill Schnucks for a two-part cooking experience. Guided by our favorite chef, Nikki Carey, we will meet for two consecutive afternoons to plan, shop for, prepare, and enjoy our menu item(s). All items prepared will be gluten-free and be representative of items that our participants may be able to replicate at home with minimal support.

We will offer this two-part class twice, during the first and second week of June. Please note that there will be a separate registration for each week. Attendance for both days of the class is required.

Day 1: We will review our menu item(s), plan and organize a shopping list, break into smaller groups to shop for and purchase our ingredients, and then enjoy a light snack as we plan for the following day.

Day 2: We will prepare our menu item(s) and enjoy our finished product together.
